

The training pipeline begins with the Breast Cancer Image Dataset, providing source data for segmentation and classification workflows.